WORD FROM J. K. GOWDY

Rushville Man Really Wants to Stay at Paris.—He Cables Watson.

Will Probably Not be Retained—Mr. Watson to See President Roosevelt Today.

Consul General John K. Gowdy has spoken if the Washington dispatches can be relied on as trustworthy. It seems he wants to stay at Paris and is bombarding the members of the Indiana delegation at Washington with cablegrams asking them to intercede with the President to secure another term for him as Consul General at Paris. He also has cabled ex-Governor Durbin soliciting his aid. Congressman C. B. Landis and Watson, who received cablegrams, called on the President Thursday to learn what can be done for our Jack, but were unable to get an audience. They will return again today.

The prevailing impression of those close to the throne of the administration circles is that he will not be able to hold on, and cablegrams will probably be sent him today from Washington notifying him of this feat.

Some of the Indianians are inclined to take exceptions to the semi-official announcement made recently that the State has more than its share of the places in the diplomatic and the consular service. Of places, good and bad, in the consular service, Indiana has fifteen. The State is not represented in the diplomatic service. Illinois has eight places in the diplomatic service, and Ohio has twice as many consular appointments as Indiana. In this connection it may be said that the administration's program to bring Mr. Gowdy home is not meeting with the approval of his friends. They are unable to understand why it is Mr. Gowdy is not promoted to the London consulship if the policy of filling desirable posts by promotion is to prevail.

It has been officially announced that Liverpool, Paris, Berlin, Bremen, St. Petersburg and other places in the consular service on the continent are to be filled by promoting men already in the service, most of them men who entered the service about the time Gowdy did, and under the rule, it is averred, Gowdy's entitled to be moved to London. The decision to bring Gowdy home no doubt grew out of the impression in official circles that Indiana had too many places, and if the State delegation can show that this assertion is not supported by the facts, the program might be changed.

Mr. Gowdy's friends have not understood that he was willing to ask for a promotion, or even retention in his present place, but it seems that when he reached that state of mind he was under the impression that practically all the men who received first-class consular appointments in 1897 would be called home at the expiration of eight years' service.

THE PHYSICIANS AT SHELBYVILLE

The Sixth Councillor District of the Indiana Medical Society held its annual meeting at Shelbyville Thursday, the session being called to order in the council chamber of the City Hall at 10 o'clock a. m.

Nearly all the physicians in Shelbyville and Shelby county were present and an interesting session was held. Dr. J. C. Sexton, of this city, read a paper on "Treatment of Intestinal Obstruction," and an interesting discussion followed. Dr. Joseph Eichberg, of Cincinnati, read a paper on "Appendicitis." The visiting physicians were entertained in the evening by an elaborate banquet at the Ray Hotel, by the Shelby County Medical Society. Those of the Rush county physicians who attended are as follows: Drs. Sexton, Parsons, Coleman, Smith and Green, of this city, and Dr. Hoagland, of Milroy.

A "SIMPLE LIFE" CLUB.

The First One is Being Organized at Richmond.

What probably is the first "Simple Life" Club in the country is being organized in Richmond by J. B. Dignam, who is editing a local magazine. Mr. Dignam received his inspiration from the Rev. Charles Wagner's book, the "Simple Life," and he says the local movement is to be followed by an effort to make the organization national in its scope, and with the one purpose in view of doing good to humanity. There will be no money-making scheme underlying the organization. No fees, no dues and no expenditures of any kind are to be asked or permitted. The local societies are to meet at the homes of the members, and their studies are to be long lines indicated in the work of the Rev. Charles Wagner. "Speak justly; speak frankly," is the motto. Mr. Dignam says that he has written a letter to the Rev. Mr. Wagner asking him to make suggestions that may aid in making the organization national and perhaps international.

ATTACK STOCK

Bondsmen Hope to Realize on Treasurer Obenchain's Oil Investments.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 13.—Bondsmen have filed suit to attach 3,000 shares of oil stock held by defaulting County Treasurer Obenchain. The stock is in possession of the county and has become valuable through lucky strikes in the Mannington field. The report that this stock is sufficiently valuable to lift the $80,000 shortage is absurd. At best it is not worth more than from $5,000 to $10,000. Within less than a year not less than a dozen Logansport men were jubilant over the prospect of great riches through possession of oil stock. Not one of them, however, realized their expectations, most of them losing money. Yesterday the county treasurer paid $2,200 subsidy to the C. R. & M. railway, with the result that the treasury is empty. It will be replenished by the $60,000 loan negotiated last week.

CHURCH NEWS.

First Presbyterian church, Rev. Thomas H. McConnell, pastor.—9:15 a. m., Sabbath school and Bible classes; 10:30 a. m., service of worship with sermon on, "The Riddle of Every Day Life;" 6:00 p. m., Christian Endeavor, topic, "Am I My Brother's Keeper;" 7:00 p. m., Mr. McConnell will give his second lecture on Palestine with stereoscopic views, "The Haram Esh Sheriff on the place of the Noble Sanctuary," The mosque of Omar, the modern successor to Solomon's temple, "next after Mecca the most sacred, and next after Cordova the most beautiful Moslem shrines" is without doubt the most beautiful structure in all Palestine, and the temple as a whole is perhaps the most beautiful and graceful piece of Saracenic art in the world. These lectures are free to the public. A silver collection will be taken to pay for the stereoscopic and the slides. The public is cordially invited.

Deaths.

Robert H. Moore died Thursday evening at six o'clock at his home in Arlington, of tuberculosis, after an illness extending for several months. He was one of the county's best known citizens and had been a lifelong and highly respected resident of Posey township. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and one son Earl, two brothers, John Moore, of Posey township, and James Moore, of Henry county, and one sister, Mrs. Mary E. Haywood, of Henderson. He was the proprietor of a hardware store in Arlington for some time and was once in the dry goods business at that place. When his health failed him about a year ago he was compelled to sell out and had been steadily declining ever since. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Christian church in Arlington under the auspices of the Arlington lodge I. O. O. F., of which the deceased was a member, and conducted by Rev. Hall, the pastor of the church. The burial will be in the Arlington East Hill cemetery.

NEED OF THE PROD

It is Felt That the Legislature Is Consuming Time Needlessly.

Much Time is Wasted in the Beginning Getting Down to Business.

Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—The routine business of the legislature will have to move along at a more rapid pace or the two presiding officers will begin to wield the prod vigorously. Lieutenant Governor Miller has already informed the senate that it is time the committees should begin reporting on bills referred to them this week.

Many of the members still have "new" on them, and before it wears off they will not transact business very rapidly unless they are urged. A lot of time is wasted at the opening of the session—in fact there are few days during the first half in which there are all-day sessions. The result is a crowded calendar for the last four weeks.

Sixty-one bills have been introduced in the senate and a few more than that in the house. But one bill has been reported out of committee, namely the one to repeal the bill enacted last session providing for printing and enrolling bills by the state printer. This was passed under suspension of rules by both houses so the engrossing and enrolling clerks could be put to work.

But Lieutenant Governor Miller wants to know why the delay. But little action has been taken on important legislation. The railway shippers' bills have not been reported and probably will not be for several days. Each side is considering or rather will consider bills to regulate the use of automobiles, and there is the usual batch concerning gravel roads, drainage, ditches vote-buying, vote-selling, game laws and sundry matters that always have to be considered in some form.

Among the most important new legislation presented is the Slack joint senate resolution to provide educational qualifications and registration for voters. The senate committee on constitutional amendments is now considering it. A bill has been introduced in the senate by Mr. Koehne of this county to pension school teachers who have taught for thirty years.

Bills for a whipping post for wife-beaters have been presented in both senate and house. Representative Force has introduced a bill fixing the minimum salary of county commissioners at $300 a year. Representative Kline has presented a bill making April and May the closed season for fishing and preventing spearing at any time. Representative Branch wants to make the reporter of the supreme court a member of the state printing board. Representative McHenry has a bill for metropolitan police boards for all cities under 35,000. The codification commission's bills except the one relative to private corporations are now before the legislature.

It is not probable there will be any session tomorrow. The election of two United States senators has been made a special order of business for 10 o'clock next Tuesday forenoon.

THE BURGLARY AT CARTHAGE

As far as can be learned no traces have as yet been obtained of the robbers who broke into W. H. Sharer's hardware store at Carthage Wednesday night. Two razors, a lap robe and several revolvers and shotguns were stolen, besides a dollar or so in cash, which was taken from the cash drawer. Several burned matches were found lying about on the floor which had evidently been used as lights. The total loss to the store is about $75. Some of the Carthage citizens believe that the burglar or burglars were negroes.

An old bachelor says there are no marriages in heaven because it is a heaven.

Hair is very strong. A single hair will bear a weight of 1150 grains.

GOOD EFFECT.

Already Knights of the Road are Fighting Shy of Greensburg.

While only having been established a little over a week, the new stone pile at the Greensburg jail has already had considerable effect on the gentry of the road, and a decrease of tramps can now be noticed in that city. At the present time six men are making the chips fly at the new institution.

A stone pile, besides doing away with the "side door sleepers" that for many months have been imposing on the people everywhere, undoubtedly wields considerable influence in regard to breaking up gangs of habitual "drunks."

In this city these classes have been allowed to run the streets or were driven out of town, to return again. Something should be done to rid our city of the hobos and drunks which, especially during the past summer's have infested the city. Institute a stone pile, clap them in jail and make them pay for their keeping, and see how quickly they will get out of town after they are released.

AN UNIQUE MARRIAGE BILL

The Rev. Isaac P. Watts, of Winchester, known to many church people, here, has gone on record in the legislature with an unique marriage bill which he has introduced.

Among other things the bill will prohibit the performing of marriages by justices of the peace. They could only be performed by ministers of the gospel having certificates from county clerks and circuit judges.

The bill provides that application for a marriage license must be made in the county where the bride has lived for ninety days. The applicant must show his profession and his income and both must show that they have no inherited tendencies toward insanity or idiocy. They must also show that they have no disease that would affect their offspring.

Both the applicants must have passed the age of twenty-one and they must show that they have not been habitual users of drugs or alcohol.

Under certain conditions, with the affidavit of the parent or guardian of the bride, there may be a marriage of a girl over 18. There is no provision for the marriage of a younger woman.

After the application the county clerk must publish the application. He will then receive any complaints against the issuance of the license. If there are no complaints in thirty days the license will be issued. If there are complaints the matter will be submitted to the circuit court.

FOR KIDNAPPING

New Castle Ind., Courier.

Sheriff Christopher left for Messick at an early hour Wednesday with a warrant for the arrest of Bartholomew Austin, charging him with the crime of kidnapping, inducing and enticing Herman Wilson to remain away from home with the hopes of getting a reward which he thought would be offered in the sum of $500 by the boy's father, John Wilson, a feed and grain dealer of Anderson. According to the boy and his father, Austin induced the boy to remain from home by promising him to share the reward and go to California. The case is one of unusual interest and promises to make New Castle the center of attraction for a short time at least. Mr. Wilson and his boy will remain here until they receive some tidings from the sheriff and they both hope that their relative will be brought to justice. According to the statutes of the State any person inducing another to remain away from home is guilty of kidnapping, and the punishment is fixed at not less than ten years in the penitentiary, nor more than life imprisonment, according to the injustice done either or all parties concerned.

GREAT CENTRAL IS LAUNCHED

Amalgamation of C. H. & D. with Pere Marquette and Other Companies.

Roads Included in Deal Will be Improved and Others are to be Leased or Built.

President Eugene Zimmerman, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, holding the proxies of H. B. Collins & Co., of New York, yesterday voted a majority of the stock of the company at the annual meeting of the stockholders in Cincinnati in favor of the completion of the various deals looking to the practical amalgamation of this road with the Pere Marquette, the Toledo Terminal company and other properties involved. John B. Manning, of New York, who holds a large block of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton stock, was in Cincinnati, and there had been rumors that he intended to antagonize the action of President Zimmerman, but instead of doing so Mr. Manning turned over to Assistant Secretary Walsh proxies for his stock to be voted in favor of the various points in the big deal. The stockholders, in the same manner, voted in favor of the issuance of $50,000,000 in bonds for the general improvement of the newly created Great Central Railway system. The bond issue authorized also the authorization of refunding previous issues and for building, equipping, buying and leasing other lines. Under the latter head the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton takes over a formal lease of the Pere Marquette lines, the stock of which is owned by the syndicate consisting of H. B. Hollins & Co. and Eugene Zimmerman. This lease brings the two original systems into still closer relations, and, in fact, makes them one company. The stockholders are authorized the purchase from the Pere Marquette company a half interest in the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville and lease the southern half of the line. A majority of these transactions were mere legal formalities. Yet behind some of them are supposed to be plans which have not yet reached the public ear.

ELECTION OF SUPERVISORS

Citizens Will Vote for Road Supervisors Tomorrow Morning.

Tomorrow morning between the hours of 8:30 and 11 o'clock the citizens of this county and all other counties in the State will vote for the men who are to look after the interests of the public roads. In some portions of the county the competition between rival candidates has been waxing warm, but in several districts there is but one candidate.

In Rushville township, District No. 1, Thomas Coleman is the only man who has declared himself a candidate and should no one else do so before tomorrow, his election is certain. In District No. 2, Lewis Krammes and Jack Powell are the rival candidates. In No. 3, there are three candidates, Earl Priest, Joseph Thompson and H. G. Heckman. In No. 4, however, there is but one candidate and he is Dave Sloan. In the other townships throughout the county candidates are more plentiful. The election will be short as the polls will open at 8:30 a. m. and close at 11 a. m.

WHAT THE

PEOPLE SAY

A well known man in this city, who has taken the agency for a new-fangled gas heater which can be attached to a gas jet and made to heat a room, placed one of them on exhibition the other day in the Magnolia restaurant. The proprietor forgot, that evening, to leave the gas burning and while it was out the said well known gentleman brought in a prospective purchaser to inspect the heater. The agent called the said prospective purchaser to the chandelier, and requested that he place his hand under the heater so that he we might feel the heat. In his demonstrations the agent repeatedly called his friend's attention to the elegant way in which the heater was warming up the room. During the discussion of the merits of the heater, the proprietor happened in the room and suggested that if the agent wanted to give a practical demonstration with the heater he had better light the gas. Nothing has been seen of the heater since.

All Rush county farmers should attend will be held for their special benefit.

Beginning Monday, there will be four meetings are always helpful to those Everybody in Indiana knows the life of Frank Hanly, the new governor of the great Hoosier State. Every phase of it is an inspiration—a fact which has been noted and declared ten thousand times and yet cannot be too often uttered for it is a fact and a past proves that we may expect the record of the future to be equally inspiring. His administration will be characterized first by a conscientious determination to administer the affairs of the State, and second by ability to do this very thing.

EXPULSION BY FORCE

Colorado State Senator Wouldn't Abide by Majority's Will.

Denver, Col., Jan. 13.—The senate by a party vote seated James B. Dick in place of Senator Robert Born. Dick was unseated by the Democratic majority during the contest over the election of United States senator two years ago. Senator Born refused to give up his seat and was forcibly ejected by the sergeant-at-arms.

Senator Daniel Healy, who was seated two years ago in place of Jesse F.
McDonald, now lieutenant governor, was also expelled by a vote of 18 to 15, the same as in Born's case. Senator Horace T. Delong (Rep.) protested against the action as unconstitutional. The Democrats allege that a two-thirds vote is necessary to expel members and may apply to the supreme court for redress.

In a statement on the floor of the senate Healy declared that an attempt had been made to bribe him. He said that on Saturday, during the joint session, he was called into a private room and was told that if he would vote for the confirmation of Judge Goddard he need have no fear of being unseated. The senate membership is now twenty Republicans and thirteen Democrats, with two vacancies.

A resolution was adopted setting next Tuesday as the day for holding a joint session of the legislature for the purpose of hearing the reply of Governor Adams to the Peabody contest.

Received a Warm Welcome.

London, Jan. 13.—The Earl and Countess of Suffolk and Berkshire (the latter born Miss Daisy Leiter of Washington and Chicago), arrived at Malmesbury on their way to Charlton Park. The town was profusely decorated in their honor and crowds cheered the couple as they drove from the railroad station to the market cross, where the mayor and other municipal officials welcomed the earl and his bride and presented him with a silver salver and an illuminated address in behalf of the townspeople.

Released on Technically.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 13.—By a decision of the Iowa supreme court the conviction of E. H. Hunter and Jesse O. Wells, prominent in Iowa politics, charged with bribery in personal injury cases, is set aside because of a technicality, the transcript of evidence in similar cases having been used in convicting the defendants. This is held unconstitutional by the supreme judge, F. A. Martin and Michael Brady, convicted on the same evidence, must meet the judgment of the lower court.

OUT OF STORM CENTER

Thomas Taggart Discreetly Retires to French Lick For a Time.

Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—While the atmosphere is surcharged with reports and rumors that Thomas Taggart took a hand in having John W. Kern and B. F. Shively selected as the Democratic candidates for the United States senate, Taggart is comfortably en-cosed at his hotel at French Lick where not a breeze can strike him. He may stick there, sheltered by the Orange county hills without realizing that there is any disturbance among his associates in the Democratic party here. Perhaps there is not as much trouble as the surface indicated for a short time after the caucus Wednesday night, but there is a smouldering feeling that some fine hand guided the majority that voted for Kern and Shively. There is not so much objection to Kern and Shively for it is generally admitted that they have served their party faithfully, but some members, notably followers of G. V. Menzies, are insistent that either Taggart or his lieutenant undid their work causing the Major to lose out when it seemed he was sure of victory. But in the meantime, as stated, Taggart is at French Lick, away from all the disturbance.

The state board of education has indicated that it proposes to make a stubborn fight to have the school fund tax levy restored to sixteen cents on the hundred dollars. It is now eleven cents, having been placed at those figures about ten years ago. An effort was made two years ago to have the levy increased but the legislature wouldn't stand for it. Several prominent men in state affairs took the position that the various counties should look after their own schools rather than to expect the state to provide funds so that the poorer counties could have longer terms. The same arguments will be made again. The state board wants an additional levy of one cent to perfect the school system where it is weak so the state is confronted with the prospect of an increase of six cents on the hundred dollars. It is not known how the proposition will be accepted as the members have not expressed themselves, but there will be a hard contest before it is settled.

The "ghost has not walked" among the legislators as yet and it was hinted today that some of them are getting pretty shy of funds. Not all legislators have a lot of money, as some people imagine. It does not grow on trees, although it has been rumored that the lobby has enough to supply all demands. It should be added here however, that comparatively few legislators accept money from the lobby and that the charges made against the body as a whole are too frequently without foundation in fact. It has always been the custom to pass a bill the first day or two of the session appropriating in the neighborhood of $100,000 for the expenses of the session but this has not been done as yet.
The first pay day should come this week or some of the legislators will have to get money from home to meet expenses.

A lot of talk has been created by Senator Slack's resolution for a constitutional amendment prescribing qualifications for voters. It would be a safe prediction that it won't pass as it is regarded as a radical step, yet there are many who regard it as a wise provision. The resolution says that no one who cannot read nor write shall vote and that all voters shall register before non-partisan boards.
Reformers say there is not much doubt but that this would result in a purification of the ballot but for partisan reasons they will not support it.
The chances are that it would cut off thousands of votes among the negroes.
The resolution has been referred to a committee on constitutional amendments, but Senator Slack will take vigorous steps to bring it before the senate where it can be debated.

The Fall River Situation.

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 13.—A conference between H. D. Drake, representing Governor William L. Douglas, Mayor Coughlin of this city and four secretaries of textile unions was held at the mayor's office to consider what could be done toward adjusting the big cotton mill strike. The manufacturers were not represented at the meeting.
The conference was arranged through the efforts of Governor Douglas. The members of the different textile unions in Fall River will be asked tonight to vote on the question of delegating the power of settling the strike in the cotton mills to the fifteen members of the textile council. The call for the meeting is said to be the result of the efforts of Governor Douglas to settle the strike, which has been in progress for nearly six months.

Important Lock Completed.

Cincinnati, Jan. 13.—Col. E. H. Ruffner, of the United States engineers, announces the completion of lock and dam No. 10, Kentucky river. The contractors finished their work on the construction which has been officially accepted by the government. Col.
Ruffner declares the lock open to navigation. It is situated 178½ miles above the mouth of the Kentucky river and steamers can now go as far as College Hill which is twenty-three miles above the dam. This makes the total navigability nearly 200 miles.
The lock is 148 feet available length, 52 feet available width and has a lift of seventeen feet. The lock and dam and approach walls are all built of concrete.

IRREVOCABLE DECISION

Peace With Dignity Is Not Possible With the Sting of Reverses Still Smarting.

The Situation at Home Also Requires Continuance of War, Says Government.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The government seemingly is about to make the irrevocable decision that prestige abroad and the situation at home require the continuance of the war till peace with dignity is possible. Beyond this point, however, confusion exists, especially regarding the immediate development of the interior situation.
Emperor Nicholas is still apparently vacillating as to whether he shall allow M. Witte full sway, in the meantime declining to permit Prince Svia-topolk-Mirsky to retire. The latter persists in the view that the confidence of the people in the manner in which the reform manifesto is to be worked out is vital, and that this is impossible if the work is to be left completely in the hands of the bureaucrats. Direct consultation with the representative classes interested he holds essential.

It has now been definitely established that the third section of the manifesto as it was originally drafted by Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky provided for representation of the zemstvos in the council of the empire, and that it was stricken out against his earnest protest.

Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's retirement from the ministry of the interior continues to be considered as only a matter of a short time, although there is seeming evidence that the emperor hopes by temporizing to avoid the necessity of concentrating the reins of power in the hands of M. Witte.
Should a real storm break, however, no one doubts that M. Witte is the one strong man in sight who can be called to the bridge.

The lack of cohesion and alignment of the forces opposed to the existing state of things, and mutual distrust of each other's program seems to make anything approaching actual revolution at the present time unworthy of serious consideration. Socialists, revolutionists and other extreme elements, as well as the subject races on the borders of Russia, all have different objectives with which the conservative Liberals, whom the government really hopes to appease, have little in common; and above all Russia's unnumbered millions of peasants, although they have manifested an horror of war, principally for economic reasons and because it takes their loved ones away, have given almost no evidence of having been stirred by the political agitation.

Demonstrations and even disorders on a large scale in the centers of population are regarded by the authorities as possible, accompanied by a recurrence of terrorism by those who believe the bomb is the only weapon with which they can fight absolutism.
This last is really considered the like-liest and most deplorable possibility in the near future. For the moment, however, all is quiet in the interior, the people seemingly being absorbed with the Christmas holidays. No further disorders have occurred in connection with mobilization, the only active movement of any sort noted being demonstrations at Nijni Novgorod and Moscow, both confined to meetings of school professors who took advantage of the occasion to protest against the disabilities under which, they declared, the staffs of the universities labored, and adopted resolutions in favor of reform on the lines of the recent zemstvo memorial, but going further than the emperor's manifesto.
The meeting at Nijni Novgorod was dispersed by the police and several persons outside the hall were injured, but none of them seriously.

Colored Vote a Menace.

Johannesburg, Jan. 13.—A forecast of the report of the native affairs committee is published by the Transvaal Leader. It shows that the commission is fully agreed that a limitation must be placed on the colored vote, which, it will show by startling evidence, is becoming a serious menace. The report will recommend several methods by which the desired end can be reached, but will insist that the present chaotic condition cannot be allowed to continue.

Prisoners of War.

Nagasaki, Jan. 13.—The steamers Kaga and Sunuki have arrived with 1,600 Russian prisoners of war and 50 officers. All the prisoners have been quartered at Inasa, a village near by, where has been prepared a lodge for General Stoessel, who will arrive tomorrow. The Russian officers are allowed much liberty within the bounds of the town, but they are under police escort.

Foot Caught in Frog.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 13.—While Mr.
Bell was working with a Central Indiana switching crew, he caught his foot in a frog, and it was so badly mangled by a passing train that amputation was required.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Discussion of the Swayne Case Resumed in the House.

Washington, Jan. 13.—In the house of representatives discussion of the impeachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida was resumed. A dramatic incident occurred when Mr.
Littlefield of Maine called on Mr. Lamar of Florida, who filed the charges against the judge, to admit or repudiate an alleged interview which the former claimed tended to incite the people to commit an act of violence against Judge Swayne. Mr. Lamar admitted giving an interview, but emphatically denied any suggestion from him that could be construed into advising assassination or murder. He said that although Judge Swayne was known to be the most lawless man in Florida, he had remained secure from bodily harm.

The legislative, executive and judicial bill was read at length in the senate and there was considerable discussion of the civil service question and the provision for an investigation of foreign trade conditions by the department of commerce.

The bill for the encouragement of the merchant marine was reported to the senate and Mr. Bailey made the point that the commission had been pledged to report in favor of discriminating duties and not in favor of ship subsidies. The suggestion was combated by Senators Gallinger and Lodge, who were members of the commission.

Political Conditions in Utah.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Much of the time in the Smoot investigation was devoted to testimony relating to political conditions in Idaho. Frank Martin and F. H. Holzheimer, prominent Idaho Democrats, testified that a majority of the Democrats of the state opposed "an unnecessary attack" on the Mormon church, which they said was the effect of the anti-polygamy plank of the party's state platform.
James H. Brady, chairman of the Republican state committee, told of taking advantage of the Democratic charges in order to get votes for the Republican ticket. He charged also that the Democrats traded off Senator Parker, Democratic candidate for president, for votes for ex-Senator Helt-field, the Democratic candidate for governor.

AT ANY COST

Help Is to Be Sent to the Ziegler Polar Expedition.

New York, Jan. 13.—Referring to the announcement that William Ziegler had purchased the Arctic steamer Terra Nova from the British government, William S. Champ, secretary of the Ziegler polar expedition, said:
"We tried to charter the Terra Nova, but were unable to do so. Mr. Ziegler's instructions were to secure her at any cost in order that the relief expedition which leaves Norway for Franz Josefland next June might have the very best vessel in order to insure its success. The expedition will be thoroughly equipped, prepared, if necessary, to over-winter, to reach the members of the Ziegler polar expedition by sledge. We have not heard from Commander Anthony Flala since July, 1903, but there is every reason to believe that he and his men are safe in winter quarters in Franz Josefand."

Thousands Dance for Charity.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—The charity ball given last night at the Auditorium by society leaders was the peer of any charitable entertainment ever held in Chicago. While the ball drew its chief support from society leaders, it by no means failed to make a popular appeal and more than 3,500 persons attended, resulting in a net profit of between $20,000 and $25,000 for the charities to be benefited.

Taken Back to North Liberty.

North Liberty, Ind., Jan. 13.—J. W.
Brooke, who conducted a bank at North Liberty, and who disappeared from there Jan. 3, taking, it is alleged, all the cash on deposit, was arrested in St. Louis and brought to North Liberty last evening.

A ZEALOT'S PLEA

Count Pueckler Says He Has Divine Commission to Abuse Jews.

Berlin, Jan. 13.—Count Pueckler, Germany's most noted Jew bather, has been sentenced in one of the courts of Berlin to six months in jail for public incitement to disobedience of laws and violence of one class against another. Count Pueckler informed the court that he had a special mission from God to lead an anti-Jewish propaganda. This conviction, he said, came in answer to constant prayer.
He said he often had been disposed to abandon his mission, but was held to the work by God's will. He protested against the imputation of mental abnormality. He admitted that he had occupied the prisoner's box eighteen times, and asserted seriously that he meant what he said when he had urged his auditors to beat Jews with sticks.

When the court heard the sentence of the court he created an exciting scene. He jumped up and shouted passionately to the judge: "You will have to bear the consequences of this sentence. We have yet to meet with weapons in hand." The judge imposed an additional three days' imprisonment for disrespect of court, and commanded the sheriff to lead the prisoner away.

A Question of the Canon.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—The board of inquiry appointed to consider the Talbot-Irvine controversy, which failed to take action on Tuesday because of the lack of a quorum, met again today at Reading. There is grave doubt among some of the board members and other churchmen versed in the canons of the church, whether the board can take up the controversy under the new canon which went into effect on Jan. 1.

Peck's Bad Boy.

Without Uncle Tom and Peck's Bad Boy once each year, we would think our dramatic season incomplete. We have Uncle Tom year after year, and it is always the same, there being no way to change it, but this season, Peck's Bad Boy has radical changes; in fact all the old material that has made so many people laugh for the last twenty years, and which we have come to know almost as well as the actors do themselves, has been discarded and an entirely new version prepared. The old familiar characters of the Grocery Man, Duffy, Maj., and Mrs. Peck, The Chum, Servant Girl, His Sweetheart and Henry Peck, the Bad Boy, are still the ones to create the fun, and a new one introduced who will aid and abet and add new opportunities for funny situations. Each character is portrayed by competent people, and an exceptionally good singing company is one of the main features. Operatic Selections, Duets, Trios, Quartettes and Choruses are finely rendered. Many novel specialties introduced and with all these and an entirely new equipment of scenery and costumes this always funny comedy is made better than ever. It will be presented at the City Opera House Wednesday, Jan. 18th. Seats at Hargrove & Mullin, druggists.

HOMESICK?

Well, I Should Say. Dog-on Missouri Anyway!

BY MRS. LILLIE S. ARMSRONG
With all due apologies to James Whitcomb Riley, Mrs. Minnie Abernethy, Bert Engleish, and everybody else.

Homesick? Well I'd say,
Dog-on Missouri anyway.

Wish I could take the old train back, Would be almost "willin'" to walk the track.

Would like to pull in past Dagler's place, Up where they take the horses to race;

Or up the J. M. & I. past Jim Hildreth's farm, Go on up past Billy Beale's barn,

On up to the brick depot, where I'd find Fred, It makes my heart feel just as heavy as lead.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
Dog-on Missouri anyway.

Just one time after election day, My! (Didn't our side make some hay),

Felt like rising up then to say Hurrah! for Missouri anyway.

But I'm afraid all elections won't go that way, I'm afraid next time I won't feel so gay.

The "news wore off," the sight seeing's through,
And all that's left is to sit here so blue.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
It's not Indiana, anyway.

Like to see those new electric cars, Bet they go through without "lettin' down bars."

Like to ride to Arlington and Morris-town; Papers all say they're doing things up brown.

Like to see that rig Geo. Caldwell's been buyin', But not the one that's for folks that's dyin'.

Like to see Cord Green in her automobile; Rode with her once—made my head reel.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
Want to go back anyway.

Like to see [Fon] Riggs a horse-back ridin', And poor old Geo. Gaire his feet all slidin'.

Like to see Mr. Puntene looking lots better, Think some times I'll write him a letter.

Like to go into John Winship's store, But my clerk's gone, Inez Glore.

Want to go in through Charlie Jones' door, See Mrs. Jones and Walter, so thin and poor.

Homesick! Well I'd say, Plague take Missouri anyway.

And into Hargrove & Mullin's among the medicine stuff, They were all good neighbors sure enough;

Like to see [Lon] Havens among the good things to eat, There's a jolly old fellow, can't be beat.

Why we would be glad to see Pudge (Mollie's old dog), Or short tailed old Fin with his steady old jag.

I want to go to Ida's and stay all day,
And stop and talk to everybody I meet on the way.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
It's not home here anyway.

I want to go to church on North Main street;
I tell you that preacher is mighty hard to beat.

Want to see Wm. Alexander in his old seat, And Aunt Becky Bodine, always looking neat.

Want to see that choir march in to sing, My! can't they make them big walls ring;

Want to see Bro. Wyatt and sister Mary Brown.
Say there's a lump in my throat that won't "swallow" down.

Homesick? Well I'd say, Shoot old Missouri anyway.

All through the holidays children had lots of fun, Nothin' here for old folks; we'd better "cut and run;"

Just sit and rock and knit and look out, And wonder what on earth we was about.

To pull up stakes and come here to stay.
If I could, "good lands," I'd sure run away.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
Dog-on Missouri any old day.

I'd like to go to the court house Relief Corps afternoon, And see Jabe Smith with his mop and broom;

I'd like to hear Geo. Conrad's hearty laugh;
And from the well a good drink quaff,

Like to see those "Ananias" fellows laughin' and jokin', Lots more down to the engine house talkin' and loafin'.

Why, I want to go to Rushville, I say it with a wail, I'd be willing to stay a week with Alice in jail.
Homesick! Well I'd say,
Dog-on Missouri anyway.

I'd like to go to the court house and through the door,
And see those blessed women of the Relief Corps,

I'd like to see the new president "poundin'" on the table, I know how fierce she is and know she is able

To stop the whispering, giggling and talkin', And I bet there's none dare be caught "balkin'";

But there's one dear face I'll never see more, Unless I live right and reach the shining shore,

If I could go home and through that door, Without her it would not be the same dear old Corps,

It does not seem just right to me as life was at its best,
But I believe the Father knows the best place to rest.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
I'm going back some day.

I want to go up stairs to I. O. O. F. hall, Oh! I want to see them all so bad I just "bawl";

Oh! I want to see everybody in Rushville too, If I don't stop I'll Boo-hoo-hoo.

Homesick! Well I'd say,
I'll be going back some day.

TALKED RIGHT OUT

Denver, Col., Jan. 13.—"The man who has imputed motives of dishonor to your president, is a liar, an absolute and unqualified liar, and the chair is able to substantiate it physically or otherwise."

This was the declaration of President Frank J. Hagenbarth of the National Livestock association. His words alluded to alleged statements that he had been over-zealous in his efforts to obtain for the railroads representation in the governing body of the livestock association.

Some sharp criticisms of the president were made by a number of delegates who declared that he was paying too much attention to the committee meeting in which the plan of reorganization was being considered and too little to the meetings of the convention. Later the president appeared in person to reply to his critics. He declared in the commencement of his remarks that he had been insulted by delegates who had impugned his motives, and that he wished to talk a few minutes on a question of personal privilege. He denied that he had been actuated by any idea but the good of the association, that he had no personal interest in the admission of any group of men into the membership of the livestock association, and then made the foregoing declaration.

"Go on with the business of the convention," said E. J. Bothwell of Wyoming, "and don't challenge us to mortal combat. We have just as much sand as the chairman."

"If you say that your president is out of order—" said President Hagenbarth.

"Yes, we think he is," replied a quiet voice from among the delegates. "I am considered out of order?" asked the president.

"You are," said the man with the quiet voice.

There were cries of "Go on" from various parts of the house, but President Hagenbarth concluded his address by the statement that he conceded that he had been out of order.

The association is deep in parliamentary mire, and there is no telling in just what direction it will emerge.

He didn't have a dollar; he didn't have a dime. His clothes and shoes were looking just as though they'd served their time. He didn't try to kill himself to dodge misfortune's whacks. Instead he got some ashes and he filled five dozen sacks. Then he begged a dollar. In the paper in the morn he advertised tin polish that would put the sun to scorn. He kept on advertising, and just now, suffice to say, he's out in California at his cottage on the bay.—Ex.

The farmers are taking advantage of the cold weather to break their corn stalks. The best thing to use for this purpose is a railroad bar though a pole is much lighter and does the work satisfactory when the stalks are frozen. The custom of shredding the fodder leaves only the stubs of the corn stalks to be broken down and these are sometimes stubborn to deal with, but the farmer knows how to get rid of them and he does it.

Last week Editor Wohrer, of the North Vernon Sun, bought a dressed hog from a delinquent subscriber and insisted on paying with a receipt for the long standing subscription account. The delinquent preferred cash, and the matter was settled by "mixing things up" in the sanctum sanctorum. But the Sun still "shines for all."
